HENRY'S FORK ANGLERS FISHING TRIP FOR TWO

Donated by Henry's Fork Anglers and the Flat Rock Club

You and a guest will enjoy two memorable days of guided fishing with Andy Jenkins and one with Adam Compton of Henry's Fork Anglers. Also included are 3 nights lodging and meals at the Flat Rock Club! Good for the 2025 season. Excluding June. Dates based on availability. Fishing licenses, flies, and gratuities not included.

The Flat Rock Club is a 120-year-old private fly-fishing club, located on the Henry's Fork with fishing right out your door. It's also only 30 minutes away from Yellowstone.

Andy is a former HFF Board member and longtime supporter. He has shared his fly-fishing passion and love for this area with his clients as a member of HFA's guide staff since 2011. He is now Assistant Manager, and you'll be extremely lucky to get the chance to get out on the river with him as your guide, as he usually has his hands full running the shop!

Adam was born and raised in Idaho and began fly fishing at 4 years of age for brook trout and cutthroat trout in the small creeks of North Idaho. In the late spring of 2019 Adam fell in love with Henry's Fork and couldn't wait to return. In the off-season Adam can be found in corn fields or ponds guiding waterfowl in the treasure valley. His humor combined with vast knowledge of trout make him suitable for anglers of all abilities.

ITEM 5

PATAGONIA ARGENTINA FISHING FOR TWO

Donated by Chocolate Lab Expeditions

You and a guest will join Chocolate Lab Expeditions for a 9-day tour fishing 3 different rivers from March 29–April 6 in Patagonia. Over 80 miles of combined exclusive private access offered within the three fishing ranches. Early fall fishing (March–May in Patagonia) should offer mayfly hatches on all three rivers and caddis as well on the Limay Tailwater—a timeframe targeted by dry fly enthusiasts and steamer junkies alike. While big browns are available throughout the season on the Limay, this timeframe should offer shots at big browns on the other rivers as well as they start to stage for spawning. Water temps should still be warm enough to target the large browns on the Limay with dry flies. Prime dates and rivers, with fantastic food and first class accommodations and Malbecs!

Based in San Martin de los Andes, Chocolate Lab Expeditions (CLE), offers some of the best fishing in all of Patagonia and more private access water than anyone else in the area. Owners Ron and Vanessa Sorensen have been guiding and outfitting anglers in Northern Patagonia since 1996, building a reputation for dependable excellence as they have shared their passion for fishing Patagonia over the years.

CLE boasts one of the most experienced guides staffs in Patagonia, with all 9 of their bi-lingual guides with at least 10 years of guiding experience. Committed to their clients having the best possible experience, CLE renews its fleet of RO Drift Boats every season with all new boats, most certainly the only outfitter in South America to do so.

“HENRY’S FORK BROWNS” ORIGINAL CHARCOAL BY COLE JOHNSON

Donated by Cole Johnson

Immerse yourself in the tranquil world beneath the surface with “Henry’s Fork Browns,” a captivating original charcoal masterpiece by acclaimed artist Cole Johnson. This unique artwork captures the graceful movement and timeless beauty of Brown Trout in their natural habitat. Measuring 14”x18” inside its frame and 26”x32” outside, this piece is a stunning addition to any collection.

Cole Johnson’s artistic process is a reflection of his deep connection to nature. Drawing inspiration from his experiences fishing and exploring rivers, he infuses each piece with a profound understanding of the delicate balance of life underwater. Through underwater photography, he delves into the intricate details that make each subject come alive on paper. Hailing from the picturesque landscapes of upstate New York, Cole’s passion for the outdoors, from hunting to fishing, is evident in his diverse portfolio. From majestic white-tailed deer to the graceful movements of trout, Cole’s artistry captures the essence of wildlife with unparalleled precision.

Although he has worked in oils, Cole prefers to work in graphite powder and charcoal. “The contrast of black and white appeals to me,” says Cole. “I enjoy the challenge of making a drawing come to life based solely on tonal value.” Incorporating the powdered graphite into his work creates a softness otherwise unobtainable, and gives a distinct mood to many pieces. ITEM 9

“RAINBOW TROUT” FRAMED ORIGINAL WATERCOLOR BY MIKE STIDHAM

Donated by Carol and Leonard Raizin

You could be the lucky owner of this beautiful original watercolor by Mike Stidham! Outside dimensions 23”x30.5”. Inside Dimensions 15”x22.5”.

Mike Stidham is uniquely qualified to paint the outdoor world. He is best known for his dramatic oils of fish in their natural environment. It is true that an artist expresses best that for which he has a passion and familiarity. It follows then that many of Mike’s works are connected to the outdoors and the world of fishing.

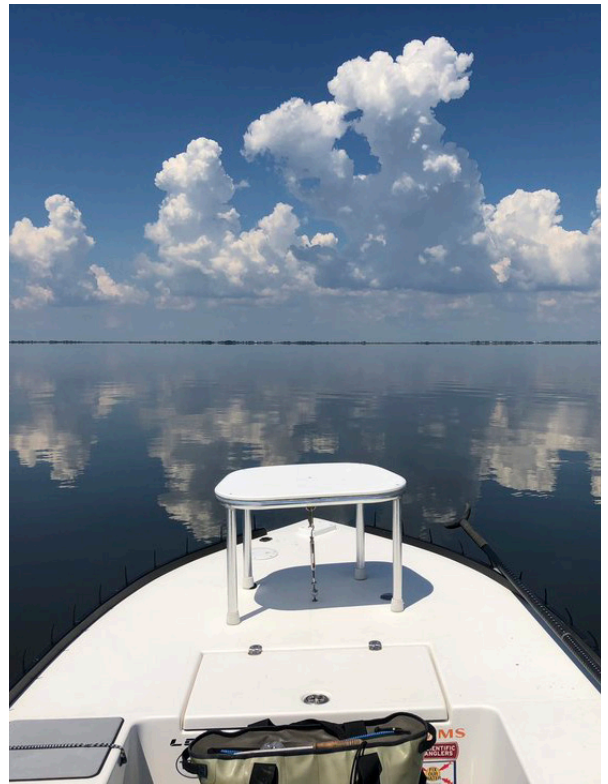

The real essence of Mike’s work is his use of light and Mike paints extensively outdoors on location to accurately capture the true nature of his subjects. His works are painted loosely, creating images that succeed on their total artistic merit, rather than just routinely painting every scale, leaf and feather.
